

Acknowledgements

The acknowledgments section of the book is a heartfelt tribute to the numerous individuals and entities that played a pivotal role in the creation, publication, and reception of "The Guest List." The author extends heartfelt gratitude to his editor, Kim Young, and Charlotte Brabbin, emphasizing the collaborative nature of the book's development, highlighting their unwavering faith and encouragement across various projects and genres. The author also appreciates the efforts of his agent, Cath Summerhayes, for her dedication and support throughout his literary journey, alongside acknowledging Kate Elton, Charlie Redmayne, Luke Speed, and Jen Harlow for their invaluable contributions ranging from executive support to film agency, and public relations.

Further appreciation is directed towards Abbie Salter for her marketing expertise, Izzy Coburn for a cherished partnership, Patricia McVeigh for her enthusiasm in Ireland, and Claire Ward for her visionary cover design. Fionnuala Barrett is thanked for her audio representation of the book, alongside the HarperCollins team and international agents for broadening the book's reach.

The author also extends thanks to the supportive retail side of the book industry, including Waterstones and their booksellers, particularly Angie Crawford, for their passionate promotion, as well as the indie bookshops creating exciting spaces for book discovery. Special mentions include Ryan Tubridy for his endorsement and the global community of readers who have engaged with and enjoyed "The Guest List." This acknowledgment serves as a testament to the collaborative spirit and collective effort that underpins the book's journey from conception to the hands of readers worldwide, emphasizing the diverse support system instrumental in its success.
